Oshidori International Development withdraws from participation in the RFP process for Nagasaki IR

Nagasaki, Japan – 6 August 2021: Oshidori International Development announced today that, unless there are certain changes to the developmental and operational rules imposed by the Nagasaki Prefecture, and unless the RFP process is conducted in an ethical manner, it is withdrawing from participating in the RFP for an IR in Nagasaki, Japan. The restrictive and unreasonable rules imposed by the Nagasaki Prefecture make it impossible for Oshidori to conduct business in a prudent and efficient manner. In addition, Oshidori has encountered several incidents that make it question whether there have been serious ethical irregularities in the RFP process, and it is only interested in participating in a process that has the highest integrity, and that is professional, transparent, and based on merit.

Oshidori expresses its gratitude to the local community and to all the people involved for their support and cooperation towards Oshidori's participation in Nagasaki's IR process.
